

CONCENTRATION: HUMANITIES

The Humanities Concentration offers an opportunity for students to explore contemporary environmental problems from philosophical, historical, artistic and literary frameworks, with an emphasis on fostering out-of-the-box thinking that can cut through hyper-politicized policy debates.

Required Skills Courses (choose 2)		6-8
ES/JOUR 125	Environment, the Public and the Mass Media	4
ES/PHIL 301	Philosophical-Policy & Legal Design: Methods & Applications	4
ES/POLS 319	Mapping Data for Policymaking	4
ES/TLT 367	Environmental Education	3
ARCH/CEE 010	Engineering/Architectural Graphics and Design	3
ARCH 043	Architectural Design I	4
DOC/FILM 150	Introduction to Documentary Storymaking	4
ENGL 100	Working with Texts	4
JOUR 314	Technical Communication	4
Required Content Courses (choose 3) ¹		11-12
ES/POLS 106	Environmental Values and Ethics	4
ES/ASIA/REL/ETH 254	Buddhism and Ecology	4
ES/HIST 315	American Environmental History	4
ES/PHIL 333	International Environmental Law & Philosophical-Policy Design	4
ES/PHIL 342	International Law & Philosophical-Policy Design	4
ES/PHIL 343	Comparative Environmental Law & Philosophical-Policy Design	4
ENGL 091	Special Topics	3-4
HMS/ENGL 115	Topics in Literature, Medicine, and Health	4
HMS/ENGL 315	Topics in Literature, Medicine, and Health	4
ENGL 380	Contemporary American Literature	4
Elective Courses (choose 2) ²		6-8
ES/POLS/AAS 305	Residential Segregation: Policies and Practices	4
ES/HMS/POLS 320	Food Justice in Urban Environments	4
ART 004	Three-Dimensional Design	4
EES 026	Energy – Origins, Impacts, and Options	3
ENGL 171	Writing for Audiences	4
HIST/GS 101	Histories of Globalization	4
PHIL 007	Emerson, Thoreau, and Beyond: An Introduction to Philosophy	4
PHIL 016	Free Will and Responsibility: An Introduction to Philosophy	4
PHIL 123	Art, Beauty, and Aesthetic Experience	4
PHIL 128	Philosophy Of Science	4
REL 006	Religion and Ecological Crisis	4
REL/GS 013	Religion and Food	4

¹ One course must be a 3-4 credit ES course.

² Can include any required skills or content courses not taken in another part of the concentration or the core courses.